Assignment 2

Machineni Tagore Gopinadh.

1.System Description

Through interviews with eight visiting students, I got better understanding about there motivation, interests and expectations for their semester in USI and Lugano, by analysing the interview transcripts we got to find that there is a pattern of recurring issues and problems with the administrative process visiting students faced which we can work on,

Our proposed system would be a structured application that organises the administrative process into clear, sequential steps, supported by reminders and relevant resources, which can be used by visiting students to help them navigate throughout the administrative process.

We believe that this makes there settling-in process easier , smoother by reducing the uncertainty and addressing the repeated question: “what do I do next?”

2.Range of User Characteristics

The eight interviews revealed the differences in how visiting students experienced the administrative process at USI. Students has to deal with procedures like Municipality Registration, Resident permits and Health insurance excemption, sometimes involving multiple administrative steps, while some students found the university’s guidance helpful others experienced uncertainty about the submission and what to do next .

For example , interview 8 described not receiving any confirmation after submitting a health insurance exemption form , while interview 5 described issues managing several administrative procedures. These interviews suggests that visiting students have different needs based on there circumstances , the procedures that they need complete ,and the amount of support that is available to them.

3.How I chose my persona

After reviewing the eight interview transcripts, I identified recurring themes related to administrative process, health insurance and uncertainty about the document submission.Although some students found university guidance and support helpful, some students where unsure whether they submitted documents are enough or what to do next, based on this I developed a fictional persona representing a visiting student who would benefit from clearer administrative guidance.
